Hotel Apartment for Englewood

Several dozen families in central Englewood have consolidated their ideas and their energies toward the building of an apartment hotel.

The plan so far will consist of 120 apartments of one and two rooms each and 8 to 10 stories high, with two store rooms, at the corners of the court. The building will have three elevators, two passenger and one freight.

The plans, at this writing, are still in crude form, but the object of this one and two-room apartment hotel is to supply the demand of small families either temporarily or permanently at moderate rates, each apartment to be equipped with kitchnette and to be either furnished or unfurnished.

Some talk concerning this hotel has been rumored that it would be operated : the co-operative plan, that is, all apartments will be prorated according to overhead costs.

This is one big idea which should be formulated at once. The co-operative plan is a good one and under clean management the cost per family would be reasonable and perhaps at from 25 to 30 per cent cheaper than through the ordinary present plans.

Reassortment of Political Bosses

It is a bit amusing to notice that in the political alignments this spring there are many changes, that a year ago would have been considered preposterous. Think of it, some Thompson-Lundin sub-bosses are now with Bundage and others with Deneen. They even say that Lundin and Thompson have fallen out over the Small issues, and that the big hatted hero of eight years in the city hall, who owes so much to the support of the Small governor down at Springfield, wants the organization to be loyal to him notwithstanding the handicap, while the shrewd Frederick wants to switch, and go over to the other leaders, either Brundage or Deneen, it makes little difference so he can get the jobs for his supporters. We remember that we read when a certain class falls out, honest men get their dues, but there is mighty small chance of the voters or the taxpayers ever getting their dues so long as that kind of politics prevails. Nearly everyone was glad to think that our local affairs were to be non-partisan, and that real civil service was to rule in city and county affairs, but it looks, after all, as if instead of reforming them, it is simply readjusting the spoils system, and taking in a few fellows equally crooked, and letting out a few that couldn't carry their precincts for the bosses. As this is a presidential year, party lines will be drawn very closely, and the politician for revenue only will have an easy battle, if the people are gulled into mixing their national with their local politics. Watch out for the old crooked gangs and beat them no matter under what national flag they try to carry on this year; they are just as crooked as when they were known by some other name or leadership.

Dr. Charles Morrison will be the guest and speaker at the Englewood Presbyterian church March 9. There will be good music and everybody will be welcome at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stuart of Stevensville, Mich., spent Sunday with friends in Englewood. Mrs. Stuart will be remembered as Anna Webster, a former teacher here.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the evangelistic meetings at the Christian church, 66th st. and Stewart ave., under the leadership of Rev. J. A. Barnett. There will be a meeting every evening excepting Saturday evening, closing March 12.

One of the gayest affairs of the winter in the younger set was the masquerade Leap Year party given by George Finnegan and Collier Thornburg at the home of the former, 220 W. 60th pl., on Friday, February 29. The house was decorated in leap year tokens. Dancing and jolly games were indulged in. About thirty guests were present.

Voters of 3rd Congressional District

My Dear Friend and Constituent:

You have probably seen in the press an announcement of my candidacy for renomination to succeed myself as representative of the third Illinois district in congress. The purpose of this letter is to bring this fact to your attention, as it is impossible for me to make a personal canvass of the district owing to the pressure of official business which requires my constant attendance on the sessions of congress.

Most important legislation is pending and owing to the slight majority we have in congress every vote is of the utmost importance.

We seek to enact legislation to reduce taxes. I am in favor of the Mellon plan, and shall continue to give it my undivided support. We must enact a new immigration law, as the law placed on the statute books during the 67th Congress is about to expire. It was this law which prevented an influx of undesirables from Europe and thus gived to the

Elliott W. Sproul

American working man his chance to labor at a wage which allowed him to support himself and family on the high plane of American living.

All the great supply bills providing the means to run our government are pending and must be enacted into law. These, and other measures too numerous to mention, but of the greatest importance to the welfare of the country, must be discussed and shaped into law. Therefore, I do not consider I would be doing my full duty if I should leave here at this time to conduct a campaign for myself in the district. You did me the honor to elect me to represent you in the 67th Congress, and re-elected me to the 68th Congress. I gave to this honorable commission my entire time and attention. I feel justly proud of the record I made for attendance at the sessions of the House and the meetings of the committees to which I was assigned.

If you are satisfied with my record, and believe it to be to the best interests of the district to return me to Congress, I shall certainly appreciate your support, and that of your friends, and be assured I am at all times pleased to serve them.

With kindest regards, I am,
Very truly yours,
ELLIOTT W. SPROUL.

Nationwide Ownership

NATIONWIDE in the scope of its service, the Bell System is nationwide also in the distribution of its securities.

In street car, at church, at theatre, at grocery store counter you rub elbows with its owners.

They differ as widely in occupation and in wealth as do the more than 15,000,000 subscribers served by the system. But as Bell subscribers are united by a common means of inter-communication, so Bell owners are united by a common characteristic—thrift.

Other forms of thrift have very properly attracted the savings of thousands of Americans, but none of them more truly illustrates an investment democracy and none more directly serves the public.

Three hundred thousand persons have made common property of their savings in order to maintain this great national public utility.

Their dollars serve them and serve the nation.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

NOTHIN' DOIN' FER ME

"Hello, ole man, you're a gettin' gray—
Who cares what the carpin' youngsters say?
For, after all, when the tale is told,
Love proves if a man is getting old.
Old age can't make his heart grow cold."

There are plenty of small men and big boys in this world.

Really few men do enough work to make a vacation necessary.

When a man is short, he is nat- [illegible] crusty.

[illegible] may be either a punishment or a reward.

Come to think of it, there are a lot of big boys and small men in this world.

No one admires a doctor's generosity in prescribing large doses unless it should be spirits fermenti.

Babies and pianos cause a heap of trouble just because people refuse to leave them alone.

The speculative market reminds one of that great truism, "A fool and his money gathers no moss."

Knocking a man down for calling you a liar, doesn't prove anything either way.

No artist has as yet painted a bald headed angel, and there sure must be some of us.

Chicago never looks so good to a fellow as when he is several thousands of miles away from it.

Frank Berg has the credit of being "a rattling good fellow" and Irv Penhallegon says it is because he drives a Ford.

A fortune teller may tell you that you have a goodly sum of money coming to you, but it is surer when the bank teller tells you.

Fundamentalism and modernism make good food for discussion, when a fellow is scared he prays to the same God that his mother worshipped.

Any sensible jury will acquit a man who murders the other fellow that dares to say that his auto is not the best made. It is another unwritten law.

I see that some wise guy prophet says we are to have a cataclism or something in this country this year. Right you are, old top, it will be at the November election.

Funny out in California one reads of the terrible freezing weather in Chicago, and the Chicago papers even up by telling of California earthquakes.

It just occurs to me if the European countries would discharge some of their armies, they would be better able to discharge their debts to America.

The Mexican revolution is about over. The Federals have captured Orizaba which is the headquarters of two breweries and the largest cigarette factories.

It was the talented Oscar Wilde who held that "Art" was greater than morality" and look what he got for it. It appears that some of the movie artists are acting on the same ideas.

Gerald F. Sullivan

At the Englewood Woman's Club

On Monday afternoon, March 10, at 2 o'clock, Major Vivian Gilbert, the actor-soldier, will speak to the Englewood Woman's club on the subject, "The Romance of the last Crusade." Mr. Gilbert was playing "Peg-O'-My-Heart" in New York City when the war broke out.

He was with General Allenby through the campaign in Egypt, was present at the capture of Beersheba, the taking of Jerusalem and the capitulation of Jericho.

This lecture is in no sense a war lecture. It is replete with information about Egypt, Palestine and Syria, and is given in a most picturesque and unusual manner. Due to insistent demands Major Gilbert has prepared his interesting story in book form, and Owen Wister says that printed words cannot convey the skill and variety of Major Gilbert's delivery. His lecture is scintillating with wit and humor and the subject itself is so picturesque and so admirably selected as to remain vividly in the memory of all who hear him.

The music extension committee will furnish the music for the afternoon. Mr. Fred Sonnen of New York City will be the artist.

The Sociology department of the Englewood Woman's club will hold its last meeting of the year on Monday, March 10, at 10:45.

Mrs. James W. Morrison will speak on "The World Court" and Dr. F. L. Hanscom will talk on "World Vision." This will be a very instructive and entertaining talk.

This will also be the last meeting of the Parliamentary Law class under the direction of Miss Patterson.

V. F. W. News

S., will hold the greatest dance ever given in Englewood to our friends. Imported souvenirs from Erin will be given free to all who attend, also shamrocks. Mr. Tom Costello of the McCormack grand opera will sing American-Irish songs. Also a prize for best looking girl. A guaranteed 5-hour snappy program. Mike Peters and his four aces will render music. A large class will be initiated into post thereby receiving the oil of joy. The Committee.

Martha Ammen Tent No. 20 National Alliance Daughters of Veterans

The next meeting of this tent will be held on March 12, at 2 p. m. On Saturday evening, March 8, a bunco party at the home of Mrs. Alice Martin, 5810 Calumet ave., for the aides fund. Kate Hinkins, our secretary, has gone to Detroit for a visit of about ten days. Mrs. Alice Ammen has been ill. Mrs. Estelle Wyman, senior vice president, has the sympathy of the tent; her husband passed away on Sunday.

Perfect Attendance at Kiwanis Club

Perfect attendance was reported for the Red army led by General William McDonnell in the attendance contest of the Englewood Kiwanis club at the meeting of the organization Tuesday.

Homer G. Sailor, general of the Blue army, reported that two members of his team were absent but that one would be able to attend a meeting of some other club in the city during the week. Frank Wood, the other absent member, is in the Everglades in Florida but he has given his assurance he will attend a meeting of one of the clubs in the peninsula state. As his attendance is necessary in order to keep the club high in the running to win the contest of the clubs throughout the country the members voted to telegraph him informing him that he was the only member from Englewood that could not be accounted for and he should make special effort to attend.

Two new members were introduced into the club. They were John Schroeder, a tire dealer and Michael F. O'Leary, a plumber. The O'Leary orchestra, composed of Mr. O'Leary's children, furnished the music.

Lewis B. Hagerman, technical editor of the Post, was the speaker of the day and it was announced that he stood ready to secure a broadcasting engagement for the orchestra.

Changes on Halsted Street

The Grossman Shoe company, through Harry and Louis Englestein, has taken a ten year lease on the store building now occupied by Tegtmeier's sporting goods store, 6335 Halsted st., and will occupy it about May 1.

The Tegtmeier store will be moved to 6345 Halsted, where the Bonita theater has been located, about May 1 also. Extensive repairs and rearrangements will be made at the place. Tegtmeiers sold their present location to M. Z. Holland in June, 1923, for a specified $98,000 and other considerations.

Edrington Treasurer of New Organization

C. R. Edrington, business manager of the Englewood Business Men's association, has been elected treasurer of the Chicago Commercial Secretaries council, composed of secretaries and executives of all business and improvement associations outside the loop, which was organized Monday night of last week in a meeting at the Hotel Sherman.

The purpose of the organization is to provide a pooling place for civic betterment ideas and activities that originate in the different communities.

J. Lucas, European Expert, at Rosezelle Beauty Parlor

This will interest the people of Englewood. The famous European expert in the art of shingle-bobbing, wig-making, preparing extra hair pieces, the latest styles of bobbed wigs and all that is connected with the art of hair-dressing, is now associated with the Rosezelle Beauty Parlor, 818 63rd st., second floor. This expert is Prof. L. Lucas, who has spent years in study on the continent of Europe. He is also a specialist in the matter of toupees for men.

Prof. Armstrong Speaker at N. E. A.

J. E. Armstrong, principal of Englewood high school, spoke before the afternoon session of the National Education association convention last Thursday at the La Salle hotel. His subject was "The Needs of the High School Girl and How They Are Met in the School."

Many of the superintendents and teachers here for the convention visited at local schools.

From Mountain to Ocean and Back

Criss-crossing California Through the Richest Fruit Belt to the Oil Fields

I promised Al Phillips and Jimmy Pappas to tell them something about the orchards here, but like the man who couldn't see the city for all the houses in the way, you can't see the orchards for all the fruit in the way. Beginning even in the suburbs of every town, the small orchards begin, and then it is a continuous procession mostly oranges of course, but thousands of acres of lemons, olives, walnuts, avocados (Alligator pears) figs, apples, pears and everything that grows on trees, and in other places vegetables of all kinds with acres of tall celery. I visited the celebrated Bastanchury plantation which contains 22,000 acres and is the largest establishment of its kind in the world. It is not more than twenty miles from Los Angeles on the Whittier road which leads into the center of the fruit belt and Orange county. Whittier was settled some years ago by a colony of Friends (Quakers) and is a wonderful garden spot, just beyond we pass Pico, which still boasts of the old Pico plantation and the home of Pio Pico, the former governor, next is Fullerton, then a German settlement which the early settlers called Anaheim in honor of the Santa Ana river, and Orange, then Santa Ana, every mile of which is covered with full grown orchards, all well cultivated and irrigated. The general charge for water is four cents per tousand gallons, and the economical means of handling it, makes the cost of watering very reasonable. It is a wonderful sight, the trees all planted in regular rows stand in columns like sentinels and soldiers as far as the eye can reach on every side. A packing establishment stands at almost every cross road and the famous "Sunkist" signs along the road almost makes one feel at home. These orchards, while many run into thousands of acres, are many quite small, ten acres and even four and five tracts are farmed profitably as the yield is continuous or mostly so, for as soon as the naval oranges are gone other kinds come in and follow in rotation. Every day in the year is a growing day, and the "smudge pots" do not often have to be resorted to, although this year they were in use, and there is a lack of rain almost unprecedented. Even as I write, we learn that heavy rains are falling in the northern part of the state and are expected to reach this section within the day, although the sky is bright and cloudless. I was asked at a Kiwanis meeting which would be my choice of a residence in California, and I unhesitatingly said LaJolla, which is pronounced "LaHoya." It is a pretty, modernly built little town on a point reaching out in the Pacific, its coast interlaced with inlets, rocky caves and promontories that are very beautiful, and attract one at a glance. It is the home of many artists who have quaint cottages and studios on the rocky steeps, or down at the sea shore. I understand that even the versatile Walt Mason of irregular poetry fame in the Daily News lives here, but it isn't right to hold it against the town for that, just because it houses a newspaper man. There are some mansions here, but the majority of residents just seem to be people of moderate means who are content to live in pretty homes, and all have the conveniences of gas, water and electricity. The climate does not vary twenty degrees all year, and it is never excessively warm in summer, while the evenings are cool, and conducive of sleep. Yes, if I must live out of Englewood, give me LaJolla, as it has many of the attractions a lazy old writer man covets, but few make enough money to enjoy in leisure.

Register March 18 So That You May Vote

March 18 is Supplemental Registration day. About 80,000 church members are not registered. Individually they stand for better government. Without their help there is no chance to win the state's attorney nomination on April 8. The state's attorney in his influence and practical control of the grand jury holds the key to law enforcement.

Therefore, it is vitally important that every believer in better government be registered on the poll books and ready to vote on April 8.

Those who must register March 18, in order to vote April 8: All who are not now registered from their present addresses. All who voted by affidavit November 6. All who come of age by April 9.

Citizens qualifications for voting in the primaries April 8, 1924: Must have moved into Illinois on or before April 8, 1923. Must have moved into Cook county on or before January 9, 1924. Must have moved into the precinct on or before March 9, 1924, and must be registered as specified above.

It is not necessary to live in the precinct 30 days before March 18 in order to register. If the voter moves into the precinct on or before March 9, he can register March 18 and vote April 8.
